[-LILLIE E. BARR.

The Farmer's Wife. A writer in the Cultivator, says: There are several leading departments which by common consent are relegated to the sphere of the wife. Embraced in her special department is the management of the household expenses, and, unless dairying is made the chief business of the farm, she has usually the entire care of the dairy. A story is told of one of the early pioneers in a new country, who, with his wife, commenced, farming on a tract of one hundred acres of wild land only partially paid for. Year after year they prospered; the one hundred acres were paid for, in large part, by the hard earned money which the wife had secured through the sales of butter and cheese. Again and again the question was asked by the husband, 'Shall I buy another hundred acres?" and the answer by the good wife was always ready and always the same : "Get me fifteen more cows and you may safely buy the land.' When in their old age a fine farm of five hundred acres was fully paid for, the wife could rightfully boast that it was her labor quite as much as well as that of her husband, which had paid for

It should be noted that if the drains are used they should be of sufficient size to remove the surplus water in twenty-four hours. Second. It prevents the accumulation of poisons, in the soil which results from stagnant water, either above or under the surface. Third. The ammonia is carried down into the soil by the descending rain, stored for the plant food instead of stopping on the surface and passing off by evaporation, or borne away with the surface waste. Fourth. It deepens and enriches the soil by opening the ground, allowing the roots of the plants to go deeper into the earth; decaying after harvest, they form this subsoil into surface soil, providing resources for the plant more reliable, and making the same ground better for cultivation for a greater length of time. Fifth. It avoids drought, by enabling the plant to thrust its roots deeper in the soil. Sixth. The drainage increases the temperature of the soil. In some cases the average has been increased as much as ten degrees. Seventh. By securing uniformity of condition for plant growth, it hastens the maturing of the crop from ten days to two weeks. This is to certify that I have tried Pryor's Pile Obstment in a case of piles, and state that it gave more relief than anything I have ever tried. I further state that as a remedy for burns it is unparalleled. I also used it for a case of tetter in my feet, of twenty years' standing, and say that it is the first thing that I have ever tried that gave me more than momentary relief. I consider now that I am entirely relieved from that distressing disease.

JOHN D. NEWSOM,
Troup County, Ga.

Having been afflicted for fen years, at intervals, with that distressing malady, the piles, and after many ineffectual trials of the remedies in common use, I commenced a short time ago to use your Pile Ontanent. I experienced immediate relief. From the relief experienced in my case, as well as from the reputation as rapidly accorded by your Ontanent in this vicinity. I have no hesitation in expressing the opinion that it is the most efficient remedy for piles ever invented.

O. A. BULLI,
LaGrange, Ga.

By the advice of Mr. Wynn, I used your Pile Ointment on a servant girl who had been suffering for eight-years with a most aggravated case of piles. She improved from the very first day's use of your Ointment, and before using the box she was entirely recovered.
